

Chapter-10

I guess I've been starting most of these chapters with 'So' in some way or another, hnmm, gotta make some change for that. So, starting this off we have approached the month of March, 2024 like the month was like an extension of previous 2 months, Jan and Feb. The phone thing becoming a staple in our lives but also this month discord entered in our lives and that was a blessing type thing because we kicked off our discord experience with the series 'Normal People', like literally I don't watch a lot of stuff but for what all I've watched this has to be one of the best ones, I don't know if it was the series itself or the fact that I watched it all with you my love, hard to tell but so comforting to feel we watched it for the first time on 6th-7th of March. We then also watch 'Only You', I remember eating something during many of these and it literally felt like an experience to not miss out on. The ending of 'Normal People' felt so you know, emotional type just because of your presence in my life my baby, I'll probably rank it as the best stuff that WE have watched so far, together, do tell me yours though. I personally have felt a lot of change in me since your ingress in my life and that has been one of the most unique experience of my life. I was waiting for this kinda experience since a while but I didn't know so many emotions were involved into this stuff, I am talking about all this because for the observation a person like me could never have felt interested in watching romantic movies and shows but I guess we all get to find and like different stuff with someone that we love, in my case that being you. Oh but yes talking about March a pretty good month, I don't remember any conflict. I guess I got to see you once this month, yeah, I guess I did, huh by the end of this month, I started to plan like how we all 3 can meet again, I was kinda excited to see you again but was not sure of it happening I did try a lot though for real but it just couldn't happen. So yeah this was pretty much about the month and mmm, I love you my babyyy!
