

Chapter-12

So, mmm, we've reached the final chapter of this lil' stuff that I'm trying to do, May, yes ideally it could have been June-to-June but I just wanted to keep like a you know cycle of 12 months exactly, like a whole year. This was the month where I was happy that your exam has ended and now I can finally have you over and I also wanted to plan it but didn't feel right to have it in the middle of my examinations going on. So just couldn't, could have though but yeah, I thought that there could be a day possible after finishing mine off but then you had yours next day, so was really you know, like kinda upset over it because this is something I have been waiting for, for so long like so so long you know and yeah I had to return back home with that in my head like all the time, also knowing that I just couldn't call you randomly and all that a bit blah blah. You got mad at me several times this month, like a lot, it felt like half of the month went in convincing you but I understand it to be a part of US and more like some reel told me that its better to not fight against the feminine energy but accept it because that's the same energy you came in craving for, I watched it way back but has settled in my brain all along because it makes so much sense you know. Huh, iloveeeyouuumybabyyy! If we go according to the timeline of these chapters then next month is your birthday, hnmm, hope this makes your birthday a bit better, make sure to send me birthday photos you dumbass, imissyou. Also, this summer training of mine was included in this month itself, also two or three online exams and for real I felt mad horny during one of them, uff! Your presence does weird stuff to me, in my tummy, butterflies I guess for how intense I feel those are not butterflies, those are whole fuckin' peacocks, I mean like those are beautiful too, that has to make sense, right? Huh, so mmm this month too ends and just like that we are celebrating the 10th month of our relationship, our beautiful fuckin' relationship and like an year of how it all started, that was the goal to start with, like, make you reminisce a bit on that, you most probably remember way more than me but this is all that I could, so mmm, iloveeeyouuumybabyyy and imissyoualways, my loveee, mybabyyyloveee, cutoo mera chhota sa, huh.
